

3. You are listening to someone explain part of the rationale in the organization of the National Council of Churches. He explains that they will be organized to avoid the problem that virtually "did in" the Federal Council and you know he is talking about the problem....

4. We are not sure how you got there but you and a colleague have just heard the explanation of Jesus walking on the water as being an optical illusion created by mesmerism through the constant flowing waves...Jesus really being on the shore and just seeming to be on the water. Your friend says..."that man is just a liberal." You note for his better instruction that he is liberal no doubt but in terms of better classification he should be called something else for a particular reason. What is that something else, and what is the reason?

5. The Conciliar movement, long ago, nearly achieved an ecumenical step that has not been achieved yet and is still sought after. What was that step?

Part III. Some Persons and their Contributions..For each of the following, simply tell what that person contributed as you are asked in each question. Be careful not to wander beyond the parameters of the question.

1. John R. Mott...his contribution to the Edinburgh Missionary Conference

2. Philip Potter: his contribution to the World Council of Churches

3. J.H. Merle D'Aubigne: his contribution to ecumenism
