

4. Robert E. Speer...to a "better understanding of foreign missions..."
5. Philip Schaaf...to the understanding of Christian unity.

Part IV Picking up the ideas of some events..you will need to note each question rather carefully and give whatever is required.

1. The year is 1908...the place is Philadelphia...what great ecumenical event is happening there and how is it reflected in our church world today?
2. We have been bothered a lot by Church World Service...not that we don't think one should do some good for others. But what is our specific concern with this body?
3. Archbishop Soderblum is hard at work in Stockholm in 1925. What is he working on and what role will it later play in modern ecumenism?
4. Things show up in some of these courses that make you wonder..for example, how could a good move like the old German Pietism be a help to modern ecumenism? Please offer us some enlightenment.
5. We are keenly observing the present struggles in the Southern Baptist Convention. There is quite a structural difference between this body and the one we sometimes call the "northern convention." What is that difference and how is it affecting the ecumenical scene?
