

- f. 14:32-42
- 3. The content of His serving ministry
 - a. Meeting the needs of others (rather than self-care)
 - 9:41 b. Setting an example for His own (and su0
 - c. Charting instruction for development and service
- 4. The Method of His serving:
 - a. Availability
 - b. Perception
 - c. Actions that meet the setting...
- 5. Subjects of the serving:
 - a. The Whole Person: physical, emotional, spiritual
 - b. Note the total gamut of those served...some had no use for Him.
 - c. The Divine Economy: Father and Spirit
- 6. Concepts;
 - a. What is most notably lacking in the Lord is "self"
 - b. The Lord does take occasion for moments of rest and refreshment...serving is not His master but His medium.
- 7. Concluding observation:
 - a. To follow the Lord in this particular is perhaps the most difficult but necessary attitude.
 - b. Much of the total program centers on an expression in John 12..."Where I am..that is where my sevant will be."

III. CONCLUSION TO THE STUDY

The study is intended to make us more aware of how our lives might be more honoring to the Lord in paths of worshipful service. Our attempt is to see how the "Perfect Servant" performed and our prayer is that we will seek to perform similarly in direct yieldedness to the will of God.
