

- Week 2, March 14...The Laws of Sacrifice
- Week 3, March 21...The Laws of Sacrifice
- Week 4, March 28...The Laws of Purity
- Week 5, April 4....The Laws of Purity
- Week 6, April 11...The Sacred Calendar
- Week 7, April 18...The Laws of Testimony
- Week 8, April 25...The Holiness Code in Summary
- Week 9, May 2.....The Laws of Responsibility
- Week 10, May 9.....Teaching, Preaching and study guidelines.
- Week 11, May 16....Summary/Conclusion

I will, of course, try to adhere to this schedule as much as possible. It is extremely unlikely that I can be rigid with it but I will try to stay close. There will be at least one class omitted during the missions conference and another during the time I am lecturing at Word of Life. There will be no class on the 17th of May...unless illness or something like that has forced the missing of earlier classes. At any rate, we have plenty of time for our purposes and it is hoped those who take the course will jump into it with both feet.

D. Grading:

- The Outline 1/4
- The Chart 1/4
- The Readings 1/4
- The final examination 1/4

The Outline must be submitted to me no later than May 4...the chart no later than May 11...the reading critiques no later than May 16. There is a substantial penalty for lateness on any of these...there is no penalty, however, for completing the work early!

E. A note on this syllabus:

It is an outline syllabus and therefore not "full" although due to my love of typing it is likely to be more full than I want it to be. It is prepared specifically for this course and is dated accordingly. Not planned for a Hebrew reading course, there is no additional data to aid in translation or working out the syntax.

My last belligerent note then is this: Enjoy the course and pay for the syllabus.

Oh, yes, as far as Bibles are concerned, I use a KJV and a new KJV and occasionally the NIV. You may use, for the course, whatever Bible you use in your devotions/study, etc. No one text is prescribed for all. In the case of doubtful readings...my opinion will prevail (humor, friends)!