

E. Projected progress

Class 1: Introduction to the course, explanation of alphabet, pronunciation, accent, etc.

Class 2: The Greek verb

Class 3: The Greek verb

Class 4: The Greek verb

Class 5: Some basic tools (Lexicon, etc.) The Greek Noun

Class 6: The Greek noun

Class 7: The Greek pronoun; Some more tools

Class 8: Greek Particles and clause indicators

Class 9: Added verb forms and some useful helps; more tools

Class 10: Summary notes; clauses of special varieties;

The Final examination will come in at this point as assigned with the exam schedule. All collateral reading must be completed by the time of the final exam. All assignments are due on the date assigned and will not be receive later save in the case of illness or some justified absence.

Class attendande is required in this course and unjustified absences result in the reduction of the final grade average on a .5 amount per absence. A tough rule, gang, but in the course we need you in every class and you need us as well. If you are in doubt about a justified absence...talk with the instructor.

F. Finally, a note on this syllabus:

It is a revision of the original pbublication of 1990. It is longer, has a lot of blank space for added notes, and has some more helps included. In terms of material covered it is about the same. Each lesson is introduced with a page offering a summary of its content and giving the assignment for the next lesson. The assignment is repeated on the last page so that the student may see it coming and going. Please note however, that assignments may be modified as the teacher sees a special need or wishes to make a particular emphasis. Observe them carefully as they are the tools whereby the course will be successful for you or not.

And please note that this is a friendly and helpful course. In spite of the stern tone of the previous paragraphs, we have a lot of fun with it and the end result is enormously encouraging. Just throw yourself into it with energy and will and you will find it helpful and enriching in your Bible study and your Seminary program.