

APPENDIX B

Projected study schedule

Name

| TIME | MONDAY | TUESDAY |
|-------------|---|--|
| 5:00 | Rise, Devotions, breakfast, travel to Seminary. | |
| 6:00 | At Seminary..enter side door...go to any open classroom but if you have a class at 8:00, go to that room. Do not bother other students who may be studying. | |
| 6-8 | Review your status for the day..look ahead to whatever classes are before you and see that you are prepared. If anything has not been done for these...you may work on it now but you should not wait until now. If everything is finished and you are satisfied it is in good form, read some supplementary material of work ahead on semester projects. Allow yourself a break about 7..just a quick one. | |
| 8-9:50 | Theology Stay alert, take good notes. | Poets |
| 10:00-10:30 | Chapel Never cut chapel to study for a class or a test. This is a fine time for meditation and devotional interest and the rewards are self-sustaining. | Chapel |

Obviously this is for the student not carrying a full time job...but there is a lot of study space in every day if we plan and execute. Those working full time or part time must adjust but don't cut out family or devotions. If single...there is a lot of time available!
