

chaps like myself groan internally. There are some double fulfillments -- you know, some double fulfillments' problems where a prophecy seems to be fulfilled two or three times. But it would be a mistake to take that principle to the unfulfilled ones. But some actually think that the way it was worded there was fulfilled ~~maybe~~ maybe in the days of Alexander the Great. Maybe the goods of people from Tyre when he went back to Jerusalem. You remember the circumstance. He enlightened the patriarch in Jerusalem. Maybe the stuff when he came back from Tyre rich and he went by Jerusalem -- maybe he gave the patriarch a big sum and he said, Here - - -

Student asks question

Mr. Taylor: Well, it's hard to tell what will happen to this. But I would like to edit all of these talks, and then have two or three specific ones added to them, and put a little booklet on -- we would call it something like "The Biblical School Guesses at Prophecy". (Laughter) But I would like to -- we have only had a few subjects here -- but I would like to take them all, have them edited, add two or three cultivated essays on things we haven't touched and put them together in booklet form, and I would like to have that done by January. If I had it done by January, then I would mail you all a copy as a reward for your kindness at being here, and then I would use it to try and persuade people to come to whatever we are going to do next year. But getting the transcription done is a big job. We are trying to get secretarial service to do that, but we have in the institution one secretary. You know our circumstances (that is the lady that was helping me downstairs, and you all know it is not my wife, even though her name is Taylor. You all know that I trust.) Whatever the case is -- we want secretaries and we have some pumpkins -- and the pumpkins (I am one of the pumpkins) Transcribing these things is slow business. At Faith -- those of you who were ever at Faith with me know that in Dr. Eppard's case, I could transcribe Dr. Eppard without ever letting up on the ~~typewriter~~ typewriter. I could just sit there and work solidly and on a tape like that one -- on a 1200 foot tape Dr. Eppard would have about 14 or 15 pages when you were done double spaced. ~~Mr.~~ Mr. Harding
