

in ~~feeling that~~ the purposes of God will be accomplished, and he will be happy when they are. Any questions? In the seminary we always look at the students and say, Do you have any thoughts in your feeble minds? (Laughter) We don't do that in the institute, because you don't all have to come back! . . .

Student: What prophecy as I see it

~~xxxxx~~

Mr. Taylor: That culture does.

Student: And how do you account for the <sup>near</sup> Egypt now. Are you — for the geographical standard or the cultural? Because sometimes we refer to the cultural and —

Mr. Taylor: I wish I knew for certainty which was in view with regard to Egypt. I feel with regard to other countries later on the culture thing <sup>is</sup> more in view than the territory. I wish I knew that for a certainty on Egypt. I think Ezekiel ~~29~~ 29 is pretty much the culture, you know, where the princes will cease and there will be nobody there. I think that is pretty much the culture that will cease, but now Isaiah -- like with Assyria -- whether it is culture and people -- just people, I am not sure. I am prone to think that with Egypt it is not specific.

Almost a decade ago <sup>Assyria +</sup> Egypt became the United Arab Republic

Mr. Taylor: Right

Student: But then they were torn apart.

Mr. Taylor: I don't think it is impossible to see them in league again some day. I am not an authority on the Near East, and I don't know what their problems are, but I don't think it is impossible to think of them as being united again. I don't think it is going to happen quickly. I think if something would happen that would stir Saudi Arabia in particular. As I see it, Saudi Arabia is a country that is ~~the~~ <sup>the</sup> big stumbling block to a real Arab alliance. I think that if something would happen to make
