

fleshly or physical effort, but a movement in the soul of obedience and worship. I cannot talk of the particular callings of God in this printed collection of notes but if the Lord has skilled you in a particular area and enabled you to be a blessing there.....doing what God has given you to do will enable you to weather any storm. Agreement with His will is not just a slogan, it is a way of life and David's appreciation of that is signaled in this psalm. No, he did not always honor the will of God and neither do we. But our acceptance and yieldedness in that area will make a giant difference in the trying areas of life.

* * * * *

MESSAGE # 4: STAYING YIELDED TO THE KNOWN WILL OF GOD

Biblical passage: Psalm 62

I. Introduction to the Study

It may seem as though we have already had this talk for in the previous discussion a good bit was said about the will of God. In that talk we were working with conformity to His Word and the Word and will of God are inseparably joined together for it is only through the Word that we can know the will...or have a means of guidance testing. But in this discussion I am more concerned with the particulars of the will of God and they have certainly been mentioned before because, as I must remind myself many times, these are the items of a responsive heart to the love and calling of the Lord. Staying yielded to these things is a happy life practice and not only benefits the individual but the total company about one as well. So if it seems repetitive or redundant or something like that, I certainly don't mean it that way in a boring fashion but it is a necessary step and one that is extremely important in facing crises of any sort.

II. Discussion:

A. God makes His will known--the broad spectrum

The key Scriptures, although not the only ones, are the following texts with the notation of God's will in them:

--1 Thessalonians 4:3---a holy life style